

Volunteers Needed to Test the New SDDOT EBS System

SDDOT is approaching the finish line with the development of their all new web based bidding system. SDEBS Web will replace the desktop version of SDEBS, which contractors have been using since January 2006. The implementation date goal is this summer. SDDOT is looking for contractors to volunteer to test the system in advance. Volunteering will include setting up a mock letting for contractors to prepare bids for and running through the full bidding process as if it was an actual letting. This will be a great opportunity for contractors to provide SDDOT their thoughts and comments on the system. The SDDOT will take our ideas and concerns into consideration before moving the system into production!!

If you are interested in participating in the mock letting, please contact Toby Crow: toby@sdagc.org
